ALERT: Modifications to approved studies must be accomplished by editing the individual answers to the questions and data elements that make up the application. The questions below are intended solely for the IRB to have a summary statement of your requested action. The modifications cannot be processed until the actual changes have been made throughout the application.

1. Provide a brief non-technical summary of any changes you will be making to the study. The text you enter here will be reproduced in the IRB approval document, and should contain the details that you and/or your sponsor find relevant. Include a list of any documents that have been modified. *

Please review the FAQ section for Tips and Techniques on using the HTML Editor.

2. Is this modification being submitted in response to an unanticipated problem/adverse event or new findings?

Yes No

At this point you will have an opportunity to proceed through the previously approved application. All previously approved consent forms and attachments have been carried forward from your current application. You may make any changes to the application or other documents at this time.

3. Is this study permanently closed to enrollment of subjects, all interventions and follow-up complete, and open for data analysis only?

Yes No

* Required.

To navigate the Application, press continue or any link in the Item List to your left.

Note: if you affirm that your subjects' involvement is complete and that you are in data analysis, you will be re-directed to a substantially abbreviated application.
